

INTERPOL Washington, U.S. National Central Bureau

Investigative Analyst Taylor Jaye

Taylor Jaye serves as Investigative Analyst (IA) in Border Security Division (BSD), INTERPOL Washington, the United States National Central Bureau (USNCB). Taylor's duties include collaborating with U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) that results in creating and processing high priority notices of behalf of the USNCB. Her analytical and data management skills are essential to BSD and the USNCB.

Prior to joining the BSD team, Taylor worked in the USNCB INTERPOL Operational Command Center (IOCC) for three (3) years, where she processed, triaged, and dispatched incoming correspondence for the U.S. National Central Bureau (NCB).

Taylor's prior experience include a Background Investigator (BI) for the National Background Investigation Bureau (NBIB) for United States Agency of International Development (USAID), Investigative Analyst (IA) for the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), and a Flight Attendant for United Airlines.

Taylor's academic credentials include a Bachelor of Science in Psychology and commendations for her service in the federal government.